

Through Thick & Thin, a Family of Love and Support on the road to fulfill my dreams

*Often times the achiever reaches the sought after goal, but only by the unconditional love and help from their loved ones and family.
This is certainly true of my life.
My husband and children were there with me unconditionally for many, many years. They too, sacrificed for my goal to become a 'country doctor.' Through every exam and weary days of near defeat, the cheerleading prevailed to inspire me to 'keep my chin up and not give up!' I owe a debt that I cannot pay, and I never received a bill. I love my family!*

Remember Me Always

Rawlin Preston Scott
March 5, 1980 – June 5, 1999

In memory of Rawlin I have organized a Presentation entitled Teen Angel. It is to educate teenagers, parents, teachers, health care providers, and others with risk behavior to the incidence of high mortality rates in Motor Vehicle Accidents – the No. 1 killer of teenagers.
It has a powerful impact upon audiences of all ages and professions, especially teenagers. The message for responsible driving and safety is well presented from the heart of Rawlin's mother, Dr. Scott. Woven into this are the issues of family relationships, communications, and self concept. It also addresses the issues of Death and Dying and the Grieving Process. How do you say "Goodbye"?

Rawlin and I shared the same Birthday the day he was born and for an additional 19 years. I told him, "You are the best birthday present that I ever got!"
